BBB Accredited since June 2007

On April 17, 2006 a dream came true. A devoted & loyal man started a company for his two daughters; Ashley Brooke & Jade Alexis. These two young, diverse & ambitious ladies came to have a company named after them; Hence the "A&J." Richard Howard, owner of A&J Mechanical Services is a respected craftsman within his industry. "Being BBB Accredited means that we are held to the customer's high expectations of providing ethical and reputable service," Howard says. "Competing with not only in state but out of state industries within the local community is hard enough alone; but with the support and guidance of being BBB Accredited, we achieve our company's standards of being "Ever Vigilant."

Howard says, "Pursuing a BBB Accreditation is like being validated and climbing the next rung on the ladder within the corporate world. Participating in the BBB Community and the Make a Wish Foundation makes us proud of not only the company we are; but the people we become."

"The average customer in today's economy being frugal and careful in spending has the BBB to protect them from non-licensed vendors and scams," Howard adds. "From the business perspective the BBB gives A&J Mechanical Services credibility and accountability. No one really cares how much you know until they know how much you care. A&J Mechanical Services, LLC would like to invite any customer feedback; negative or positive. Also, we would like to take this time to thank the many military members left behind supporting their families. May God Speed."
