BBB Accredited since February 2005

Jule and Dana Philpot are co-owners of Mr. Electric of Central Kentucky and couldn't be more pleased with their Better Business Bureau Accreditation. They have been in business since May 2002 and have definitely noticed a growth in their business as well as repeat customers they've gained through the use of the BBB Accredited Business Directory.

When speaking to customers on a day-to-day basis, Dana says "They are very excited to know that Mr. Electric is Accredited with the BBB, adding confidence and professionalism to our company. They know they will be treated fairly from their first call coming into the office until the service professionals leave their homes."

While in their customers' homes, Mr. Electric will do a free 16-point Home Safety Check as well as consult their customers about how to avoid powerful storm electrical surges and using power-saving devices which can lower energy bills and make household appliances run more smoothly, saving 5% -8% on electrical bills.

Jule says, "It's important that my customers know that we are BBB Accredited. I believe that the local Better Business Bureau goes above and beyond their call by spreading the news about ethical business practices by placing billboards in Lexington, their involvement in the Central Kentucky Home, Garden and Flower Show and community awareness including the BBB Accredited Business Directory. These practices stand out in the minds of consumers due to the ethical and honest business practices we all should conduct. Having a good service company means a lot to many people. We are so thankful for our local BBB."
